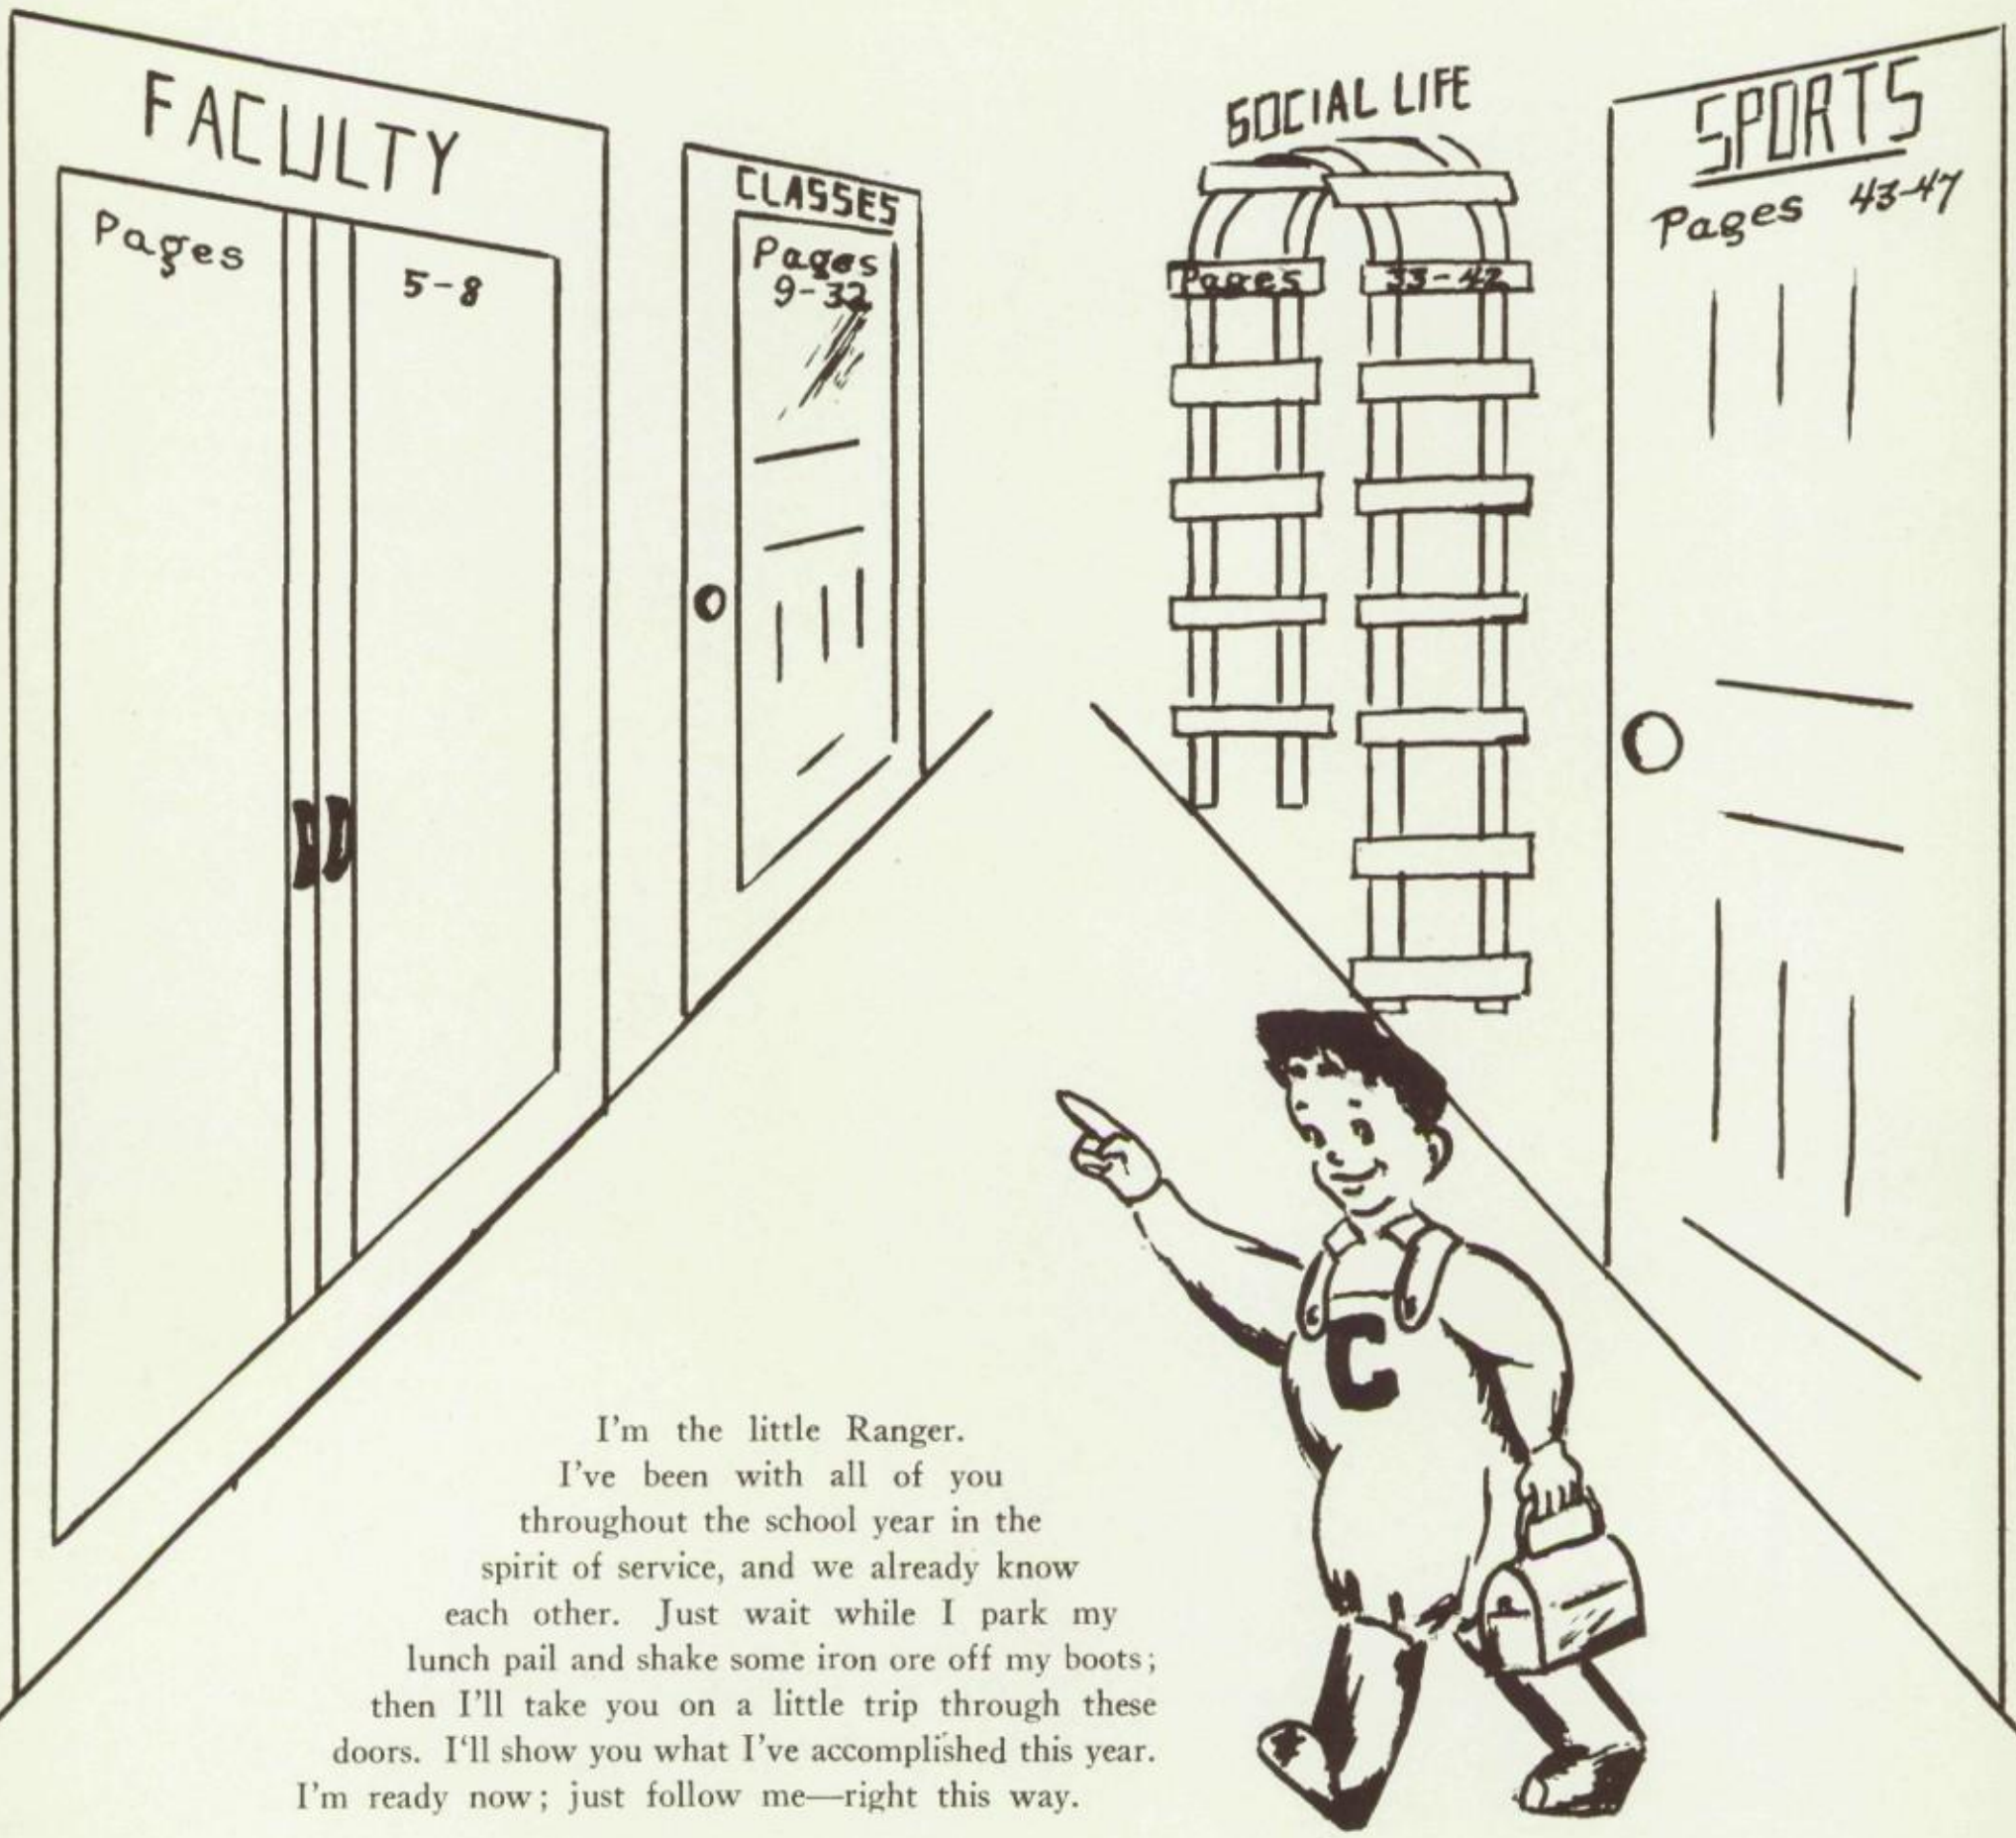
Dedication

Miss Alice Hickey, diminutive senior class adviser and dean of girls, came to Chisholm in 1918 during the last World War. In her twenty-five years of loyal service to the school she has commanded the devotion of all students for her sympathetic understanding and helpful advice.

Today 1,517 boys and girls she guided in high school are fighting in another World War. The many letters from "her boys" to "Dear Miss Hickey" reveal a deep affection and testify to a true appreciation of her worth. They have found in her unstinting devotion to their welfare an example of service "over and beyond the call of duty".

To Miss Hickey and her boys and girls in service, we dedicate this annual.

Table of Contents



I'm the little Ranger.
I've been with all of you throughout the school year in the spirit of service, and we already know each other. Just wait while I park my lunch pail and shake some iron ore off my boots;
then I'll take you on a little trip through these doors. I'll show you what I've accomplished this year.
I'm ready now; just follow me—right this way.

A. F. DROTNING

E. C. CHURCHILL

"An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man" . . . To no one does this dictum apply more truly then to our superintendent of schools, Mr. J. P. Vaughan, who through 37 years of devoted service since 1907, has developed a great school system of recognized excellence.

Working with him for the same period of time has been Mr. A. F. Drotning. As principal, Mr. Drotning set for Chisholm High School standards of high attainment in all fields of activity.

This year the friendliness and sense of fair play of a newcomer, Mr. E. C. Churchill, has won the respect and liking of all for the "new" principal. His policy and personality has inspired the confidence that he will worthily carry on and add to the luster of Chisholm traditions.

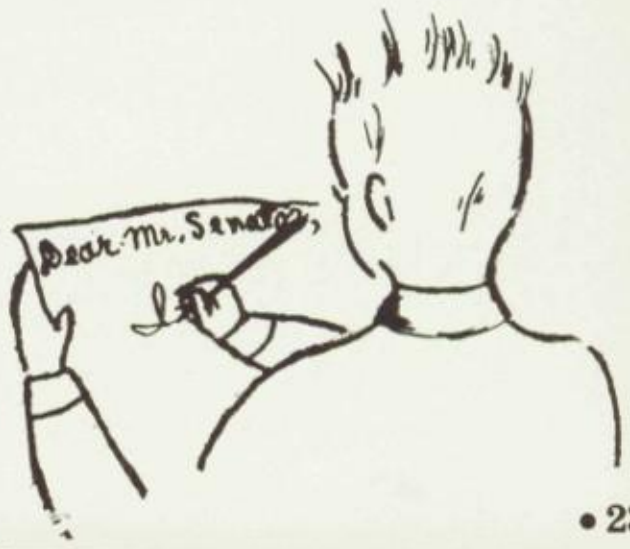
Aim: Good Citizens for Tomorrow

Consistent stress on the mastery of minimum essentials necessary for correctness in speech and writing have given poise and ability in self expression. The study of American history and economics will enable them to become better leaders in the service of their country. Their knowledge of foreign languages will make them better citizens in a community of nations consisting of different cultures and governments. Thus through training for effeciency and leadership, through an understanding of right relationships to his own country, through an appreciation of other countries each student will be better prepared to solve the problems he will face in the post-war world.

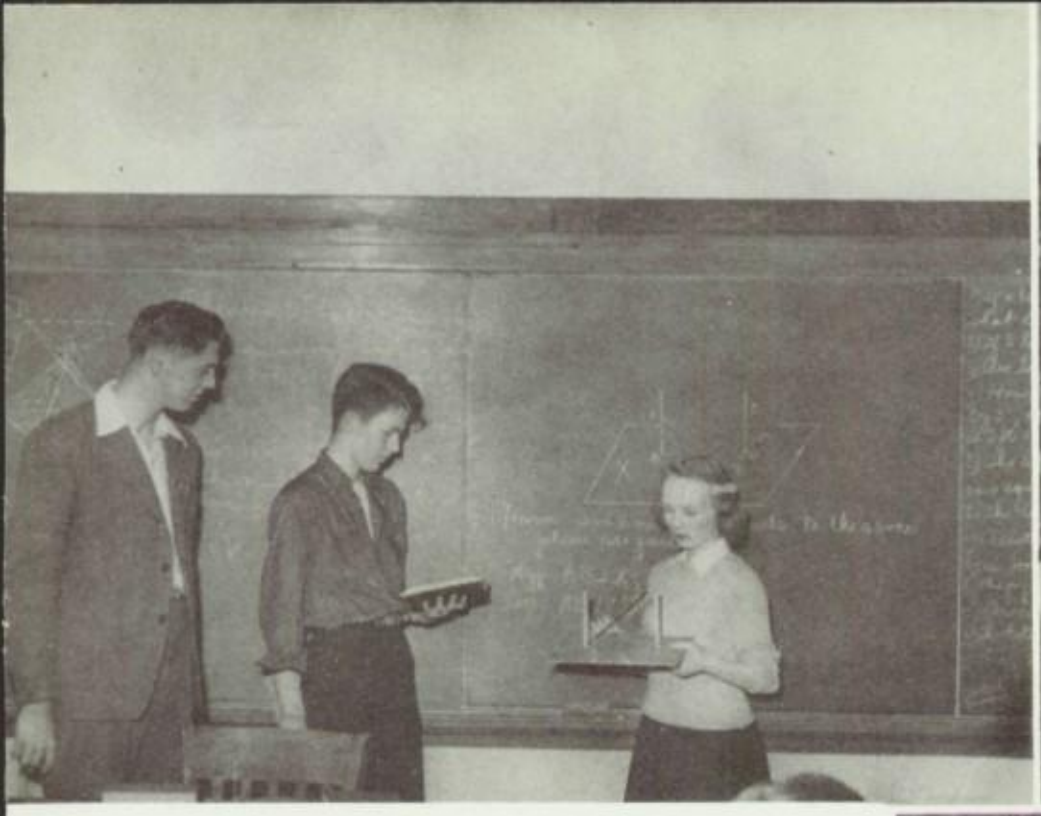


Essential Industry

Seniors now awaiting their call into the armed forces will find their knowledge of math and science of immediate service to them. Boys in machine shop and mechanical drawing already possess the basic requirements necessary for the ground crew and engineer corps.

From these classes will emerge the doctors, nurses, and scientists, so vitally needed in this war.

The post-war world of new inventions and discoveries, too, will give new opportunties to these students of practical sciences.



Tuning Up for Action

This page from top to bottom: Geraldine Sampson, surrounded by twenty boys in the solid geometry class, still manages to concentrate on parallelograms. . . "I wonder"—Virginia Johnson doesn't seem to sure about James Sucich's conclusion. . . "To see if everything is still all right"—William Pender is no Sinatra but he's careful just the same. . . "And it comes out here"—Harold Ruparsich seems ready and willing to catch it. . . The boys get their practice at "lines" from the mechanical drawing class.

"We Also Serve"

Our classes are in step with the times. We learn how to make last years dresses look like Vogue creations and make an appetizing meal from left-overs.

In defense training we are taught the fundamentals of home nursing and of nutrition, the rules of water safety, and the technique of life saving.

Always willing to help, the art classes brighten our corridors and class rooms, make favors, design program covers, in short, serve to decorate and beautify at almost every turn of the road.

The commercial classes set high standards in speed and accuracy which will enable girls in typing and shorthand classes to assume good positions as secretaries and stenographers upon graduation. Already some girls from these classes have appointments in the Navy department in Washington, D. C.

Volunteers for work in Mr. Churchill's office as office assistants are gaining practical experience in typing and filing and set a fine example of service for the school.

To Inform--To Entertain

PUBLICATIONS STAFF — The Ranger and Bluestreak staff worked overtime this year to put out the annual, the Ranger, and our school gad-about, the Bluestreak. Things kept humming down in the Ranger office as our paper met its monthly deadline. Every week news-hawks published their HiLights column which kept the public informed in regard to school activities in the Chisholm Herald-Tribune. Later this column was taken over by juuior apprentices as the journalism students devoted their time to the Ranger. Informal shots of school life were contributed by the Camera Club to help interpret our school activities. The Bluestreak staff was aided by the production staff advised by Miss Helen Adair. The staff stenciled, mimeographed and assembled the paper.

ON THE QUEST FOR NEWS—Junior and sophomore apprentices called their club Nasus Nuntiis, Latin for "Nose for News," and lived up to their name by keeping us up to date on all events. Top to Bottom: Grahek, Saxhaug, Kosiak, Haley Turtinen, Koschak, Zanoni, Barber, Merila, Dornack. The Junior High-Lights Editor, Thomas G. Cassidy, was missing.

--To Interpret--To Serve

The sale of Rangers got underway with a bang when the journalism class presented the skit "Truth or You'll Be Sorry" modeled after "Truth or Consequences". Participants and audience had a hilarious time. The cracking of guns and the howling of wolves were but a few of the attractions that held everyone spellbound. At the lower right the wolf scene shows Wolf Frank Jenko, Red Riding Hood Sampson, and emcee Beatrice Ladin.

Round and About the School

This year our dimes and nickles put into War Stamps helped buy a trainer plane.

The wise old owl looks on approving as Mr. John Tegg sells Helen Bertolini a War Bond while Julia Lobas assists the transaction.

Tony Glouski and one of his assistants, Philip Francetti, keep our classrooms bright with flowers and our school grounds beautiful and well kept.

Miss Cora Randall, sight-saving instructor, helps Mary Biondi in manuscript typing.

John Ferrell and George Latkovich represent the janitors who rate high praise for our clean and cheerful classrooms.

The Junior Red Cross Serves

All work together for that great organization—the Red Cross. Whether making lamps and smoking stands, patriotic posters, robes for soldiers, or representing the Chisholm High School chapter at the Duluth Meeting, students are ready, willing, and able to serve.

They're 1-A In The Army and They're A-1 In Our Hearts

SILVER WINGS—"Off we go into the wild blue yonder"—all year long these boys' heads have been in the clouds—dreaming of the day when they'll be "climbing high into the sun". We'll never forget those frenzied days they spent before their physicals wondering if they'd be fit to "give 'em the gun." When they came back from Minneapolis wearing the wings of an air cadet, we knew they were ready to "live in fame". We salute you boys and hope you'll never let anything "stop the Army Air Corps".

Just practicing so I'll know how to salute those cute WACS.

NAVY—R. Koschak, L. Lyngdal, B. Sinko, F. Kruchowski, G. Haideman.

"WE'VE GOT GOBS OF LOVE FOR THE NAVY"—"Anchors aweigh, my boys"—soon these seniors will "sail at break of day" in the service of their country. We're mighty proud of our men in blue and wish you "a happy voyage home," boys.

"He serves best who knows the joys of companionship"

NATIONAL HONOR—The goal of every senior is to achieve membership in the National Honor Society. As only fifteen per cent of our graduating class is eligible for membership, students can secure this honor only by excelling in scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Of this number, five per cent of the class are especially honored in election as juniors. Junior members for the class of '44 were Mae Ruth Pietila, John Indihar, Carol Lindstrom, Virginia Mahan, Eleanor Kangas, George Tupac, and Patricia Auble. Junior members for the class of '45 are Muriel Saxhaug, Mayme Merila, Ralph Turtinen, Elaine Steffensrud, Delores Mattson, and James Tupac.

FIRST FOUR—Leading their class in scholastic abilities were the versatile seniors at the left. John Indihar, valedictorian, and Mae Ruth Pietila, salutatorian, were active in vocal and instrumental music respectively. Geraldine Sampson was especially interested in the activities of the dramatics club and in declamation contests. Barbara Wangensteen was a member of the Ranger and Bluestreak staffs, debate team and accompanist of various singing groups.

SENIOR COUNCIL — This year the senior council served their classmates in their selection of class rings, folders, and invitations.

THE ERODELPHIAN—our girls' honor society, is the oldest organization serving the school. It is every girls aim in high school to achieve a high scholastic average to insure her membership in the society.

Again they proved their versality in a varied program of activities. This fall they presented A. A. Milne's delightful play, "The Romantic Age." For their traditional Ero Ball they transformed the gymnasium into a winter fairyland. Just before graduation they were hostesses at a social hour for all senior girls.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM — Our Junior-Senior Prom held April 22 carried out the theme of Springtime. The gymnasium was decorated like an old fashioned garden with myriad colored flowers, picket fences and lattices. Couples danced under pastel streamers to the music of the Rhythm Airs. Wishes for adventure and romance came true at the old fashioned wishing well which was the center of attraction, or was it the punch table it enclosed?

QUILL AND SCROLL—Members of the Quill and Scroll are chosen for their literary and scholastic abilities. This year they initiated eight new members at an informal party in the gymnasium.

SWIMMING CLUB—The Dolphin Club was organized this fall by Miss Elizabeth Carlson whose aim has been to achieve correct form and grace in swimming rather than speed. Girls from junior and senior high school meet once a week to practice their swimming and diving techniques.

During the year of its existence, the Dramatic Club has already established a reputation for pleasing entertainment. Their first play, Let Me Come Back, proclaimed a hit by faculty and students alike. It was later presented for night school graduation exercises. The organization named the Alpha Sigma Rho because it included students interested in acting, stage management and rhetoric. Spring meant house-cleaning for the grand opening of Alpha attic in the Washington building which featured three one-act plays, The Unseen, The Bird on Nellie's Hat, and Mind over Matter.. These were directed, acted and managed by the entire membership.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY—The senior class play, "The Late Christopher Bean," presented on May 19, was a creditable piece of humor by Sidney Howard. This drama was exceptionally amusing, clever, and hilarious, yet beneath it all lay the interesting, complicated lives of the Haggett family and their maid, the lovable and simple Abby. Excellent portrayals were played of every character in the script by the senior cast. Ending with a gay twist that left the audience pleasantly surprised, the play was indeed a success.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR—The exquisite blending of sixty voices which make up our A Cappella Choir has won its way into all hearts. The singing brigade under the direction of Miss Edith Carlson, began its year's activities at an Armistice Day program which won so much applause that they were requested to sing at the Bond show during the Fourth War Loan Drive. Their spring concert was all-American, featuring a fantasy of service songs with a two piano accompaniment. Bac- calaureate services highlighted the year's activities with hymns, prayers and responses sung A Cappella by the choir.

Serving Us Through Music

During the twenty-two years that Mr. Louis Regis has directed instrumental music at Chisholm, he has established a fine reputation an an able director of the band, orchestra and string ensemble.

The spirited music of the band created a stirring atmosphere at football and basketball games.

The orchestra was an integral part of every convocation and climaxed the years' activities with a beautiful spring recital of concert music.

The string ensemble provided soft, mellow background music for banquets, programs and social gatherings throughout the community.

Even during the absence of Mr. Regis these activities carried on under their student directors, Mae Ruth Pietila and Donald Niemi.

Mae Ruth Pietila explains some of the nuances of a new selection to the ensemble.

I CAN DREAM; CAN'T I?

BOYS' QUARTETTE—An audience always demands a curtain call from our Boys Quartette, whether, performing for students, lady's clubs or banquets. Although organized this year, their popularity has already spread far and wide. Their characterization of a barber shop quartette delighted the Alpha Sigma Rho and Vising Day audiences. They are left to right: Joey Toldo, Charles McDonald, Michael Orlich, and Louis Novak.

In spite of only two regulars returning, Walter Kordish and George Tupac, Coach Henry W. Hugener's football proteges ended a very successful season with three wins, two losses, and a tie.

Taking time out from work in the mines, the boys hurried themselves into physical condition in one week taking on the tough Duluth Central eleven. Although losing, 7-0, the boys proved to be every bit football players.

The annual games with Virginia and Hibbing proved to be thrillers. "Hank's" men overpowered Virginia, 14-0, but the Bluejackets from Hibbing again proved to be Chisholm's jinx in football by downing the "Streaks, 18-13, after staving off a determined bid in the last quarter. Stars for this year's team were:

Linemen, George Tupac, Dick Johnson, William Bicanich, Michael Orlich. Backfield, Joe Toldo, Walter Kordish, Stanley Kne, and Merko Smilanich.

"LOYAL TO THE RED AND BLUE"—Our boys swimming team, coached by Carl G. Giffei, began practice early in November for their first meet with Eveleth on December 3. Although their swiming season boasts of only one victory, the mermen have been stiff competition and have displayed some excellent swimming. The squad, composed chiefly of boys in the lower classes, looks forward to a brilliant season next year when most of their letter-men will return.

Another year rolled by and again Coach Harvey J. Roels' Bluestreaks dominated the District 28 conference with sixteen wins to four losses. The 'Streaks opened with a bad start losing to Grand Rapids, 22-17. Improving in the game, they bowled over opponents only to have Coleraine and the powerful Blue-devil team from Virginia trip them up during the regular season.

The Roelsmen successfully defended their crown in the District 28 tournament by nosing out Hibbing 38-34 and trouncing Buhl 47-28 and Coleraine, 56-42.

In the Regionals the Bluestreaks again were upset in the first night of play by Morgan Park in a 37-36 thriller. Again they captured the consolation title by defeating Rush City, 42-38.

The Chisholm team was led by Co-aptains Stanley Kne and Michael Orlich with ample support received from Joe Sertich, Louis Perkovich, Merko Smilanich, and our next year's captain-elect, Ralph Turtinen.
